VERSALIFT SHAKES ON RUTHMANN NEW EQUIPMENT DEALS AT VERTIKAL DAYS

Versalift United Kingdom enjoyed a successful Vertikal Days show in May which included a number of Ruthmann new equipment sales from the stand. The company which is a manufacturer and provider of van, truck, chassis and spider mounted platforms, has grown substantially since it took on the Ruthmann product line in 2022.

AFI continues its investment in Time Manufacturing brands.

AFI Rentals purchased a STEIGER® TBR260 from stock, shaking on the deal at the show. In addition to the pre-requisites of reliability, performance and quality, availability is a key factor so buying from stock is a major consideration for AFI. The major rental company has an ongoing investment of £10m capex in Time Manufacturing's vehicle and track mounted platforms.

Wilson Access continues to build Ruthmann STEIGER® TBR260 fleet.

Wilson Access Fleet purchased the STEIGER® TBR260 on a Daily35S, their third unit this year.

The Ruthmann STEIGER® TBR260 has a 26m working height, a 17m outreach, and 250kg SWL. Built from high strength steel, it features basket rotation, 3500kg GVW and is driveable on a cat B driving licence.

Other successes included the sale of two Ruthmann Ecoline RS200 units which were sold to PG Platforms Ltd and Warren Access. The Ecoline RS200 has a 20m working height and a 10.7m outreach. The compact unit has a quick, simple and easy set up process and is becoming a popular choice for rental companies and independent contractors.
